

SOUL RETRIEVAL Via PAST LIFE REGRESSION

FIRST, WHAT IS YOUR SOUL

The soul has been defined many different ways, but being in physical form, no one really knows the higher truths. The best way to understand what the soul is, is by studying the common threads of religious beliefs by different scholars.

Ancient Scriptures state that “We are all made in the image and likeness of God”. I am sure that you accept that there are many different beings living on other planets and solar systems that don’t have human form. Because God is in all living beings he/she must not have a physical form. I am suggesting that the force of God, by any name, must be the energy and love which we call the soul. Thus all living beings must be a small, but a complete and whole portion of God.

WHAT IS SOUL RETRIEVAL

You have gained wisdom in this present incarnation. What purpose would that wisdom be if you could not retrieve it in your next life? All those life times of wisdom would be lost. But they’re not lost; they are all there just waiting for when you are ready to retrieve those unconscious parts of your soul. On your path of return, all that wisdom will be consciously integrated giving you the power to begin your life mission.

LOST PARTS OF YOUR SOUL

These parts of the soul are not really lost, just not realized. To become a whole and authentic individual, all the parts of your soul need to be whole and complete. But what are those parts? To retrieve them, one must go back to each life time that wisdom was experienced. Many of your life times experience knowledge but never apply them sufficiently to be realized as wisdom. Most believe that if they know a subject or have been told of their past lives, that it represents wisdom. But knowledge by itself is useless unless it is experienced within the physical world. Remember, we all have the knowledge of God within our DNA. Thus physical life is designed for the application of remembering your knowledge which when heart felt becomes wisdom. Obviously parts of the soul are not missing, as it is complete at all times, just not in conscious awareness. Working on your spiritual path is realizing your subconscious mind via feeling from your heart. Before you incarnated, you decided your next life’s destiny in order to gain that life’s wisdom as your free will guides you towards that destiny.

It doesn’t matter that you work within the spiritual community but rather the work choice allows you to experience the underlining understanding and wisdom offered by the occupation selected. The wisdom acquired then becomes the conscious part of your soul.

When experiencing your many past life regressions, you begin to realize that it is really not past lives but rather parallel lives. This allows you to visit those lives that are still alive and change the experiences that affect your present life, just like you have changed events in your present life choices. Thus you visit each of your past lives of experienced wisdom and retrieve that awareness by becoming conscious of that hidden wisdom.

THE PATH OF RETURN

Your soul retrieval begins at the Garden of Eden, real or metaphorically. The garden represents the oneness of the God force. When cast into the physical world you begin a series of reincarnations where you are granted free will to apply your God given knowledge. The application of knowledge allows you to experience the wisdom of that knowledge. The consciousness of wisdom then becomes a part of your soul. This is like having your children leave home so they can gain the experience and wisdom of the physical world.

Towards the end of your incarnations, you will feel the need to return to that Garden of Eden (metaphorically). This is the path of return, your soul retrieval. Here you will begin to retrieve and integrate the wisdom on your path of return. The reliving of your past wisdom allows you once again to gain the consciousness of that wisdom. This vibration gives you the energy and awareness needed to live the wisdom of your next level of consciousnesses. Returning to the Garden of Eden, there will be an ever turning sword (metaphorically) with a doubled edged blade guarding the gate of the 4th dimension. The sword represents balance and temperance of both the negative and positive forces. You now have the wisdom of your lessons on Planet Earth and are off the wheel of rebirth. This is the last life for many of you older souls. If you are reading and feeling this article, you are on your way of realizing your individual mastership of your God Self.
